Evening World Letters Indicate Hubby Spanking Is a Favorite Sport.

BUT THE WORM TURNS.

There's the 140-Pounder Who Soundly Paddles His 300-Pound Spouse.

All those leashands who have not been spanked by their wives pinner

On second thought, it will be more humans to put it the other way round; to order those who have been fanned with a bread board or a hair brush or a carpet beater or a lemon equeezer these being the weapons at favored by wives who indulge in this growing indoor sport-to assume on upright attitude, that being the most comfortable position for one who has been spanked.

That such an order, could it be enbreed, would find a great many mared men in the standing class is red by the letters from spanked sbands which have been coming to e Evening World office since the dication a few days since of a letfrom a Brooklyn husband protest og against being punished horizon ally by the woman he promised to ove, cherish, &c. It's the old case of

SPANKING YOURSELVES

Te the Baltur of The Brauing World I don't know what to think of them weakchins—that's all they are, weakchins who we been admitting they let their wives spank them. The miseus and myself argued all day to day over them letters you printed Saturday, because epacking goes on in our house to BUT I DO THE SPANKING And I only weigh ist, while my wife is close to the 200 mark. I guess that's proving who's boss in our that's proving who's boss in our house Well, you can tell how light I am when I used to be a jockey. I now drive a milk wagon. We've been married eleven years, and you can picture what I would be looking like now if I allowed her to spank me. We'd only been married awhile before she started to wallop me, but I beat her to it. Spanking her is the only way to keep her from crying. You see, she loves to stay in the hay, and as I have to get up at 3.50 every morning, and I admit it's pretty early to get up, but as I have to do it to make a living for both of us I can't see where she has any kick coming. Well, when I woke her she used to whine, and I got so mad I just started spanking her and she got indignant and stopped walling. I baven't spanked her in two months now because I have better hours and she gets up all right. I don't go to work until a quarter to five. We've saved a little money and we're happy, but I'm sure the fear of being spanked keeps her happy. Some guys will call me a wife beater, but I ain't. There's a big difference between wife beating and wife spanking. The first is likely to hurt a woman; even if the second hurts for a while it does her good.

Bayonne, N. J., July 2.

BHE'S A SPANKING WIDOW; BUT

SHE'S A SPANKING WIDOW; BUT

SHE'S A SPANKING WIDOW; BUT NOT A SPANKER.

To the Elizar of the Evening World.

Now see what you and your old letters from spanked husbands have done. I've been a widow for four years and a half and a waitress for most of that time, and while I'm big and healthy and strong and able to make my own living I've been looking forward to getting married again to a nice little man who's somewhat older than I, but who makes eighteen bucks a week. He was to take me to South Beach Saturday night and I was all dressed up and ready and waited until 9 o'clock, when instead of him along comes a copy of The Evening World in the mail with the spank-story marked with black lead peacil marks. On one of the pictures he wrote: "Dear Stella, please try and forget me, because after reading this story I think we better not go together any more." I want it distinctly understood I'm not the kind of woman who spanks a husband, but if I had had that guy when I read that I might have forgotten I was a lady. Anyhow, you can see what your old letters cost me. LEFTOVER. New York, July 9.

THAT MASCULINE WEAKNESS MAKES HIM SORE. Editor of The Evening World:

All I got to say is this: Any guy that lets a dame spank him should be pushed off the dock with a rock tied to his neck. Gosh, how sere I get when I read those letters. To think some of those guys are getting big money, while I'm getting a few bones a week for making horseshoes.

SMITHY.

Long Island City, July 8 SHARPER THAN A SERPENT'S TOOTH IS A SPANKING WIFE. To the Editor of The Evening World:

I might as well admit I'm one of the spanked husbands. I feel so ashamed of myself that I'd like to give my real name and ad-dress. I will if the others will. dress. I will if the others will. What makes me mad is that I nursed my wife back to health during a three months' illness, thinking my devotion would cause her to change her ways. But the first day she gets strong enough she repays my kindness with a spanking that made up for lost time. It isn't that spanking is fatal, but after getting one a fellow feels ashamed to look a worm in the face. In an effort to build up her strength my wife is following Miss Furlong's advice in your paper. If you can get Miss Furlong to stop those articles you may save one husband from further sombardment.
